DETAILED ACTION

Sequence Requirements

1. This application contains sequence disclosures that are encompassed by the definitions for nucleotide and/or amino acid sequences set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.821(a)(1) and (a)(2). However, this application fails to comply with the requirements of 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.821-1.825 for the reason(s) set forth on the attached Notice To Comply With Requirements For Patent Applications Containing Nucleotide Sequence And/Or Amino Acid Sequence Disclosures.

2. Full compliance with the sequence rules is required in response to this office action. A complete response to this office action should include both compliance with the sequence rules and a response to the election/restriction requirement set forth below. Failure to fully comply with both these requirements in the time period set forth in this office action will be held non-responsive.

Election/Restriction

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

1. Claims 1-8, drawn to an assay for detecting Lyme disease infection, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1; class 435, subclass 69.1, 320.1, 172.3, classified in class 536.1, subclass 23.1; class 435, subclass 69.1, 320.1, 172.3.

Art Unit: 1645

III. Claims 14-18, drawn to a recombinant FlaA, classified in class 530, subclass 350+.

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product FlaA protein can be obtained by affinity purification methods and the method of making a recombinant protein can be used to make any recombinant protein.

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions recite different methods steps, different modes of operation with different functions and different effects. Group I is directed to an assay of detection method and Group II is directed to a method of making a recombinant protein.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in methods of treating Lyme disease, vaccine compositions, making antibodies or for affinity purification of the protein

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one Group is not required for another Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any
